AURORA Acknowledges Dedication

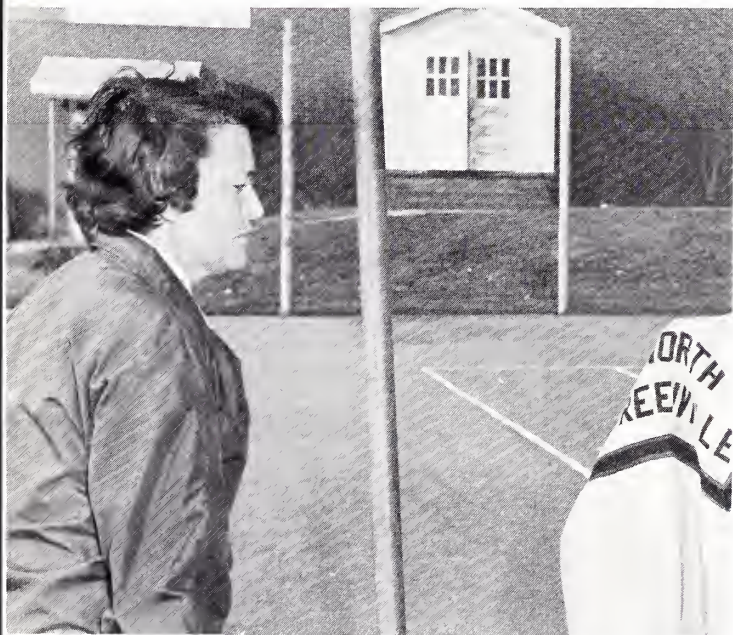

In the afternoon Dr. Proctor enjoys a little recreation.

Early in the academic year the AURORA staff sought the aid of the Sophomore Class in naming the person to whom the 1969 yearbook would be dedicated. The class named two individuals who have brought wisdom and understanding into their classrooms and into all areas of life.

Their courage, their kindness, their laughter, their genuine interest have helped all of us at North Greenville to reach a little higher toward our dreams.

With appreciation we proudly dedicate the 1969 AURORA to Dr. and Mrs. Dan W. Proctor.

Mrs. Proctor gets the tennis team off to a good start.

Perspective of Thought

Experienced Administrators Lead North Greenville

Dr. Thomas L. Neely for the past ten years has led the administration in carrying out the many responsibilities as president of the college; also he was president for one year of the State Baptist Convention.

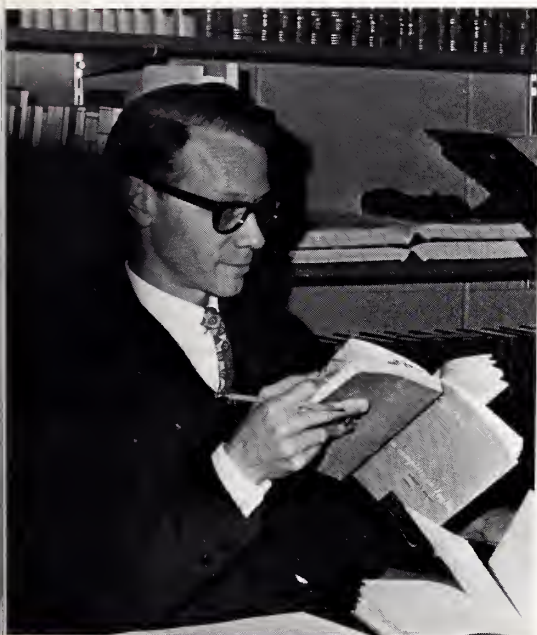

It is quite a job to maintain a college, but our administrators have succeeded in their tasks. Duties of the administration demand insight, diplomacy, energy, and concern for the college itself. They have given to North Greenville through these jobs much pride in the college, not only for its academic standing but also for its Christian environment.

Paper work demands much of Dr. Neely's time.

Dormitory and Library Approved

Chairman, Mr. Robert H. Green

On Founders' Day the twenty-five-member Board of Trustees voted to construct a men's housing complex for one hundred eight students. Also, the group approved a faculty salary index that takes into account tenure with the college and academic qualifications. Plans for the new library were discussed, and a permanent student affairs committee was named.

Other Trustees—Seated: Rev. W. R. Barefoot, Mrs. Joe Kinard, Mr. Robert H. Green, Mr. Preston Griffin. Standing: Rev. Wallace Taylor, Mr. Stanley Mahaffey, Mr. Jesse Simmons, Dr. Byron Harbin, Dr. William Hendrix, Mr. Nolen Brunson.

Librarian
M.A. in L.S., Peabody College

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Hale
Library Assistant

Named in honor of the Reverend H. C. Hester, principal of North Greenville Academy from 1920-1928, the Hester Memorial Library contains over fifteen thousand volumes, excluding pamphlets and pictures, and subscribes to nine daily newspapers. The library offers the student a large selection of records, filmstrips, microfilm, and other materials. During their sixty-seven-hour work week, the library staff is capable of giving professional assistance to students.

Plans for a separate library building are included in North Greenville's current development program.

Career Training Given for Business

Mrs. Delane B. Wood
Typing, Shorthand, Office Correspondence
B.S., Winthrop College

The Business and Commerce Department provides a wide selection of courses designed for business majors preparing for senior colleges. It also affords necessary training for those students who plan to enter a career upon graduation from North Greenville. Prerequisites to senior college business administration courses are offered at North Greenville.

Students who plan to enter the secretarial field are provided a two-year course in shorthand, typewriting, business correspondence, and office machine operation.

M.A., Appalachian State University

Courses Stress Communication

Comprehension of the English language and the correct usage are emphasized in English courses. This year the English Department has added a laboratory to assist students who are deficient in grammar and spelling.

Critical reading, thought, and expression are objectives in English literature, giving the student an understanding and appreciation of past and present literature.

The Speech course stresses clarity of thought and true expression.

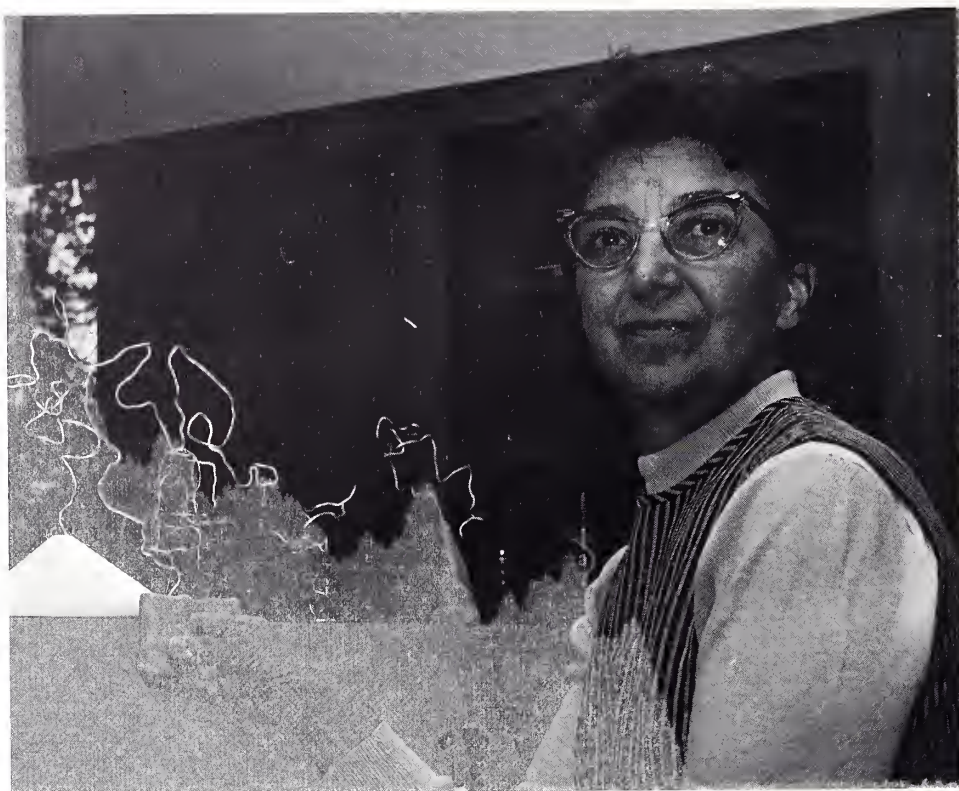

Mr. Henry J. Howard

Fine Arts

Tours Stimulate Artistic Interests

Mrs. Dorothy B. Moehlenbrock
Art Fundamentals and Art Appreciation
B.A., Newcomb College

The Fine Arts Department is composed of courses in art and music. Art Appreciation and Art Fundamentals provide the student a foundation in the history and principles of art. Painting, sculpture, and architecture are introduced with an emphasis on the development of art throughout the years. This year students enjoyed first hand experience by visiting exhibits at Furman and the Greenville County Museum of Art.

In Fine Arts, music also holds an important place. Musical interest and appreciation is stimulated in various courses, preparing the student for a professional career in music or stimulating personal interest. Among the events of the year, the A Cappella Choir presented concerts in various churches in neighboring states.

Students Develop Language Skills

Mrs. Anne B. Godbee
French
B.A., Furman University

Both the beginner and intermediate French courses enable students to gain a reading, speaking, and writing knowledge of the language. French Literature deals with the works of famous French authors. The course gives a background for the appreciation of the language and customs of the French people.

Colorful expressions and the distinguishable charm of the Spanish language are presented in beginner and intermediate courses. The beginner course stresses a knowledge of basic grammar, reading, writing, and conversation. The intermediate course continues the instruction in verbs, vocabulary, and grammar. While acquiring a greater understanding of the Spanish temperament and point of view, the students learn more about the culture of the Spanish people. Without this knowledge there can be no real meeting of the minds in any language.

Greek is offered primarily to meet the requirements of students entering the ministry. The study of grammar emphasizes pronunciation, vocabulary, syntax, translation, and composition. The intermediate study of Greek deals with a continuation of grammar and composition and the reading of selections from classical authors and from the Greek New Testament.

Formulas and Systems Related to Life

Mrs. Evelyn Corderman
Mathematics and Physics
M.A., Duke University

Mr. Robert T. Roper, Jr.
Mathematics
Department Chairman
M.A., Furman University

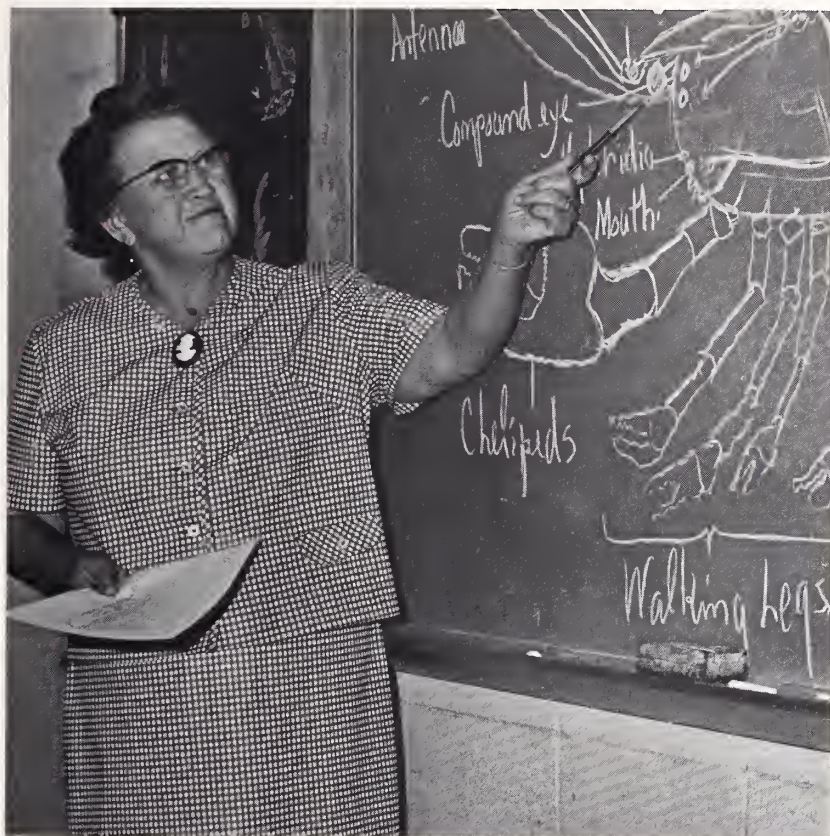

The Natural Sciences and Mathematics Department includes courses in biology, chemistry, physical science, physics, and mathematics. The course in biology is designed to cover the general principles of process and activities incidental to and characteristic of life.

Introductory and inorganic chemistry are included in the chemistry courses, directing attention to the basic elements in relation to everyday living.

Physics is a study of heat, light, sound, electricity, mechanics, and magnetism. The course emphasizes mathematical problems and derivations of formulas.

Studies in algebra, trigonometry, and advanced mathematics are included in mathematical courses. Of special interest is the five hour math course.

Ancient Teachings Remain Practical

Dr. Dan W. Proctor
Bible
Department Chairman
Th.D., Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary

Within the Religion Department are courses in the Old and New Testaments, religious education, and advanced studies in Bible.

The student learns Old Testament history by studying the religious development of the Hebrew people, their leading personalities, and nature of Biblical revelation.

The survey course of the New Testament covers the inter-Biblical period and the historical background in New Testament times. The life and teachings of Jesus and apostolic history are also emphasized.

Through exploring Baptist history, doctrine, institutions, and organization of the local church, the student becomes acquainted with Baptist life and thought.

Students Prepare for Modern World

Mr. George F. Case, Jr.
Psychology
M.A., Furman University

Mrs. Carey M. Roper
Sociology and History
Department Chairman
M.A., Furman University

Comprising the Social Science Department are courses in sociology, history, government, and psychology. A basic knowledge of each course is provided for the student with additional advanced study.

Sociology and psychology prepare the student for modern living, providing a clearer interpretation of his relation and application to his environment.

A student may explore in the history and government courses man's political, social, and cultural progress. Also, the student may obtain a meaningful interpretation of the nature and value of American democracy.

Among the many responsibilities assumed by sophomores is the Miss Aurora contest. This year "Peachtree Avenue" was chosen as the theme.

Each sophomore feels a sense of pride in having met the challenges of the freshman year. Soon the student experiences a change in attitude toward himself and others.

Behind the impatient smiles and anticipation, the nearness of graduation brings to mind two long wonderful years. North Greenville has become a well of memories from which every sophomore draws tears, laughter, and appreciation.

Beginning with the first rigorous week of orientation, the freshman quickly sees that campus life may be somewhat different from his expectations. However, he begins rapidly to adjust to his strange, new environment. As he accepts new challenges in academic work and in social life, he feels a growing sense of achievement.

The student soon realizes his responsibility as a participating member of the Freshman Class. In the spring the class sponsors the Freshman-Sophomore Banquet. This year to raise money for the event, the class collected dues, conducted a "slave" sale, and sponsored a "Miss Roar" Contest.

Intensified Tide helps Billy Norris, Steve Gilreath, and Ken Rogers solve their wash-day problems.

S. G. A. Makes New Rules

Pete Waltz, president

The Student Government Association strives to help the students in every way possible. By sponsoring many events each year, the Association attempts to unite the student body.

The Student Government has tried to rewrite its Constitution in order that students may understand the rules more clearly and have additional privileges. A project for a ten-minute courtesy time for men and women boarding students was passed at the beginning of the year. Also, a watermelon slicing was one of the main events which the Student Government sponsored. Annually the Association sponsors a hike up Glassy Mountain.

Many improvements on campus can be attributed to the Student Government Association.

Judicial Council Tries Discipline Cases

The Student Government discusses campus activities.

Sammy Cribb helps with S.G.A. watermelon slicing.

Members of Judicial Council — Dennis Wilson, Larry Brown, Nan Neves, Ron Fowler, Pete Waltz.

The Judicial Council is designed to try cases of discipline on campus that are referred to it by the House Councils or the S.G.A. Executive Committee. Cases coming before this Council in the past two years have been few, but after the Student Government Constitution is revised, it is hoped that the Judicial Council will have more authority in matters of discipline.

Pete Waltz votes in the Student Government election for new vice-president.

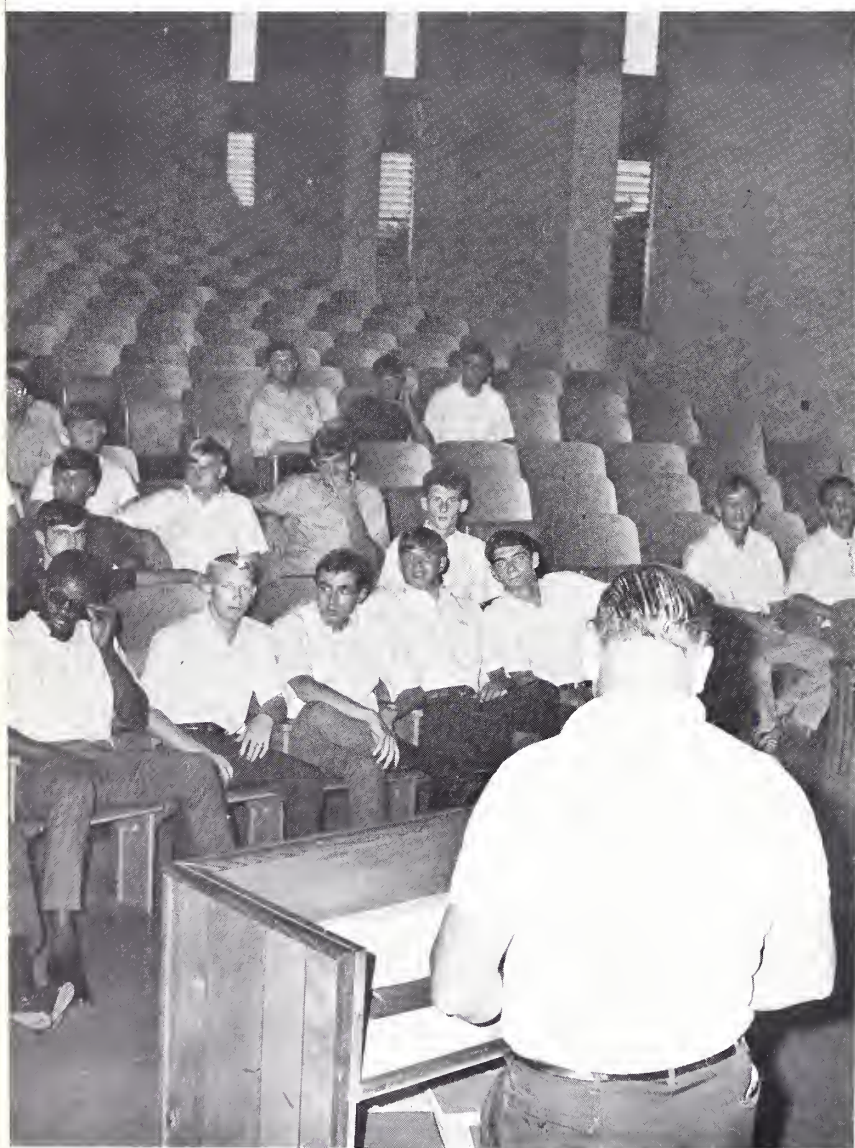

Brenda Kilpatrick and Don Rochester entertain at the S.G.A. Welcome Party.

The Judicial Council has a jam session.

House Council Helps Govern Dorm

Dean McDonald and Freddie Freeman discuss rule changes.

The Men's House Council is made up of a president, vice-president, secretary, class representatives, and monitors. Each week the Council meets to discuss any major infractions of the rules. Referrals may be made to the Student Government.

Each year the Men's House Council and the Women's House Council jointly sponsor an open house at Christmas time. The room with the best Christmas decoration is given a prize.

Members of Men's House Council — Standing: Dean McDonald, John Erwin, Tommy Porter, Milton Heatherly, Glenn Little. Seated: Olin Dantzler, Freddie Freeman, Charles Henry, Larry Stokes, Ned Marlowe.

Council Sets Dormitory Rules

Each year several girls are chosen by the boarding girls, the dormitory monitors, and the Dean of Women to serve on the Women's House Council. The Council deals with minor infractions of the dormitory rules. It seeks to help each girl in all aspects of college life.

Annually the Council sponsors a dormitory decoration and open house at Christmas. This is a project in which every girl can participate.

A birthday party is sponsored once a month for girls having birthdays. Such an event increases the spirit of the boarding students.

Mrs. Crain, dean of women, and Mrs. Tribble, assistant, refer to rules in the Enlighteneer.

Members of Women's House Council — Standing: Mrs. Olive Crain, Patsy Buis, Donna Boyter, Carolyn Slagle, Linda Burrell. Seated: Alice Forrester, Nancy Silvers, Marsha Marrett, Judy Kennemer, Rethia Wilson.

Third Row: Carolyn Slagle, Ginger Burns, Linda Burrell, Nancy Silvers, Rev. Hartzog Beard, pastor advisor, Rev. Wade Hale, faculty advisor. Back Row: Rowena Atkins, Sherryl Johnson.

Making Christ relevant in the life of each college student is the major aim of the Baptist Student Union. It links the college to the church and coordinates the religious activities on campus.

The B.S.U. affords each student an opportunity to begin each day with morning devotions. Also, he has an opportunity to attend vespers twice a week.

The major project undertaken each year by the B.S.U. is Christian Emphasis Week. The entire week is an attempt to reveal the need for Christianity in our world and to show that life takes new meaning with Christ as the center.

Annually the B.S.U. sponsors a pre-retreat for new students; later in the year many students attend the State B.S.U. Convention.

Men Prepare for the Ministry

The objective of the Dean Crain Ministerial Association is to help students prepare for the Gospel ministry. At the meetings each student from time to time has an opportunity to preach to his fellow students. Many of the members fill pulpits over the state in the absence of the regular pastors.

One of the most important events conducted by the Ministerial Association this year was a revival held at the Buckeye Forest Baptist Church in Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Philip Fain, president, concentrates on program for next meeting.

Mr. Hale, sponsor, posts notice of next meeting.

The Dean Crain Ministerial Association has an open discussion at one of the meetings.

Club Initiates Community Action

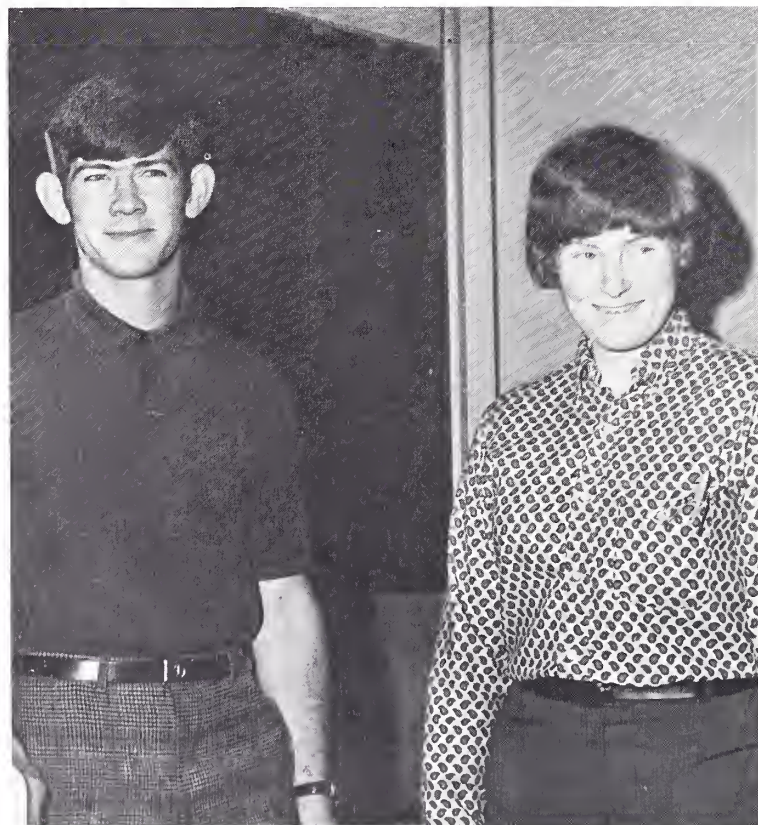

Chris Steinmetz, president, heads for class.

The purpose of the C.S.M. is to promote interfaith discussion and co-operation, using various programs designed to foster free discussion of relevant issues among persons of all faiths and of no faith.

Students conduct the club activities. The sponsor merely presides at club elections and acts as an intermediary for the club and the faculty.

The C.S.M. has seminars on a variety of subjects and has brought to the campus films relevant to man's faith today.

The organization initiated "community action" through cultural enrichment and tutorial programs for the underprivileged.

Other officers are vice-president, Jerry Durst, and secretary-treasurer, Janet Hopkins.

Dr. Walker, sponsor of C.S.M., enjoys studying religions.

Members of C.S.M. — Front Row: Mike Runyan, Chris Steinmetz, Janet Hopkins, Laura Cash, Darryl Blanton. the Fine Arts

An honorary literary society, Esse Quam Videre is composed of young women who maintained a high scholastic average in English the preceding year.

One of the oldest organizations on the campus, the society takes pride in its purpose: to train young women to preside over public meetings, to be poised and at ease in the presence of others, and to appreciate the fine arts. This purpose is accomplished through monthly meetings which include the study of literature, music, and art, emphasizing cultural refinement. Guest speakers present programs on their specialized fields after which a social period is enjoyed.

Officers — Seated: Doris Khoe, Linda Burrell, Miriam Hayes. Standing: Wayne Turner, Ashley Robertson, Dr. Dan Proctor.

Achievement Is Noted

Phi Theta Kappa membership is the greatest honor that a student of North Greenville can attain. To become a member of this organization, one must have a grade point ratio of 3.5 or better. Students who have achieved this average are invited to join at the end of each semester. A special chapel program was sponsored by the Phi Theta Kappa to recognize prospective members. Students who are invited to join the organization must also possess dependability, leadership, and scholastic ability.

Doris Khoe, president, fortifies for the next class.

New members of Phi Theta Kappa — Doyle Williams, Steve Eshleman, Elaine Butler, Beth Cox, Sandra Brady.

Etude

Etude helps bring concerts to North Greenville.

Members of Etude enjoy music together.

Sandra Brady, president.

Etude Emphasizes Musical Talent

Etude, an honor society for music students, is composed of those students who have maintained a "B" average in all their music courses. The purpose of the Society is to promote participation in the musical activities on the campus. The Society is affiliated with the South Carolina Federation of Music Clubs. The main project of the organization throughout the year is the sponsoring of concerts.

Officers — LaNelle Dow, Becky Merrill, Matt Limbaugh, Sandra Brady.

Their Joy Is Shared

The College Choir is made up of students selected on the basis of a private audition at the beginning of the academic year. The Choir is very important to all North Greenville students. At many chapel programs the students enjoy the choral selections.

The Choir presented a program of special music prior to the Christmas holidays. Each year the group makes tours to various churches. This spring the Choir traveled into North Carolina and Virginia presenting concerts.

Officers — Seated: LaNelle Dow, Judy Kennemer. Standing: Tommy Hill, Diane Marett, Archie Stevens.

Students Maintain Literary Interests

Library Club members discuss items of importance.

L'Amicale des Livres is composed of students who maintain a "C" average and who have a sincere interest in literature. The aim of the Library Club is to encourage an appreciation of the arts and to develop an interest in current affairs.

Included among plans for the year were tours to other college libraries. The club also had the privilege of hearing several speakers at the monthly meetings and chapel assemblies.

Phi Beta Lambda is designed for those students who are looking forward to careers in business and business education. One of its chief objectives is to develop strong, aggressive leadership so that future businessmen and women may participate more effectively in business and community life. The members learn how to lead and participate in group discussions, preside at meetings, and direct committee work, plus many other skills.

The club helps the members to have confidence in themselves and to advance scholastically.

Need for Expression Is Fulfilled

Hey, let's watch it, Reba and Dana!

The Sock 'n' Buskin Society offers students an opportunity to demonstrate their acting abilities in the plays they present. The Drama Club's first production this year was "The White Butterfly." It was a great campus success. Much work goes into the preparation of a play, and those who participate receive a rewarding experience for their efforts in a major presentation.

Another purpose of the Society is to help the members acquire an appreciation of the dramatic arts.

Officers—John Gantt, John Erwin, Phil Rhodes

Membership in the Collegiate Civitan Club is composed of all Freshman and Sophomore men who wish to join. This organization is sponsored by the Civitan Club of Greer, South Carolina. The purpose of the club is to help the members become good citizens and to build character.

During the second semester the Civitan Club along with the New Frontier Society sponsored Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs, a pop concert that really boosted student morale.

John Erwin brings Maurice Williams on stage for the Zodiacs' concert.

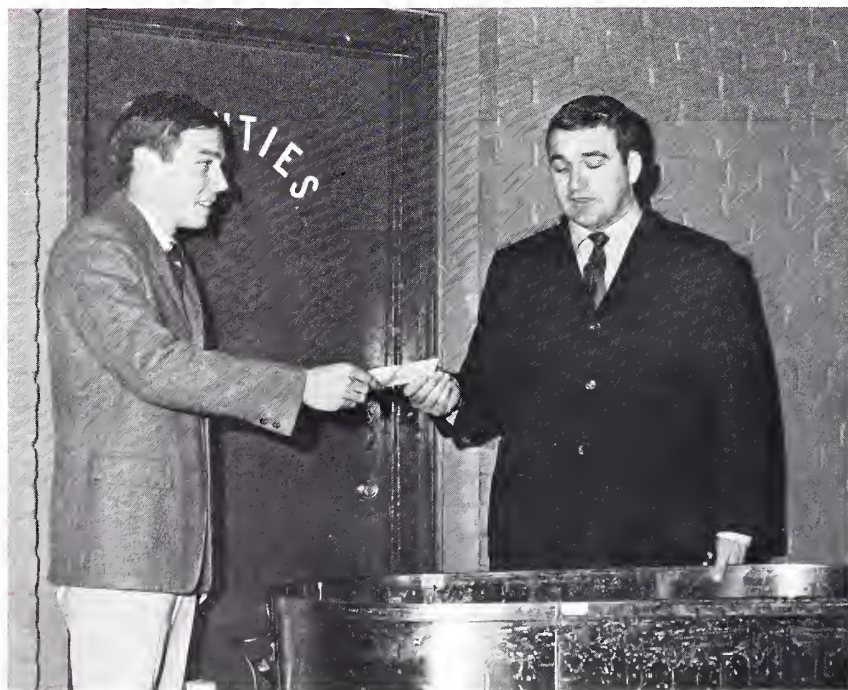

Club Activity Is Evident

The recently organized New Frontier Society has sponsored pep rallies during basketball season to promote school spirit. Early in the year the Society presented a musical group, the Newmen, which entertained the students at a bonfire. The organization was also responsible, along with the Civitan Club, for bringing the professional artists Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs to North Greenville.

During one of the January chapel programs the Society presented the Athletic Department a check to purchase a whirlpool for the basketball teams.

Perspective of Time

Scholarship Day

Students Receive Recognition

Scholarship Day was observed by a chapel program with Reverend J. W. Crocker, a North Greenville alumnus, as guest speaker. Reverend Crocker talked on today's youth. Fourteen outstanding students were recognized for achieving a 3.5 grade point average.

Doctor Proctor invited the honor students to become members of the Phi Theta Kappa, for which he is the sponsor. Phi Theta Kappa is a local chapter of a national junior college fraternity. One of the highest honors that a student at North Greenville can receive is membership in Phi Theta Kappa, which was organized on our campus last year.

Rev. J. W. Crocker spoke on "Today's Youth" during services for scholarship.

Author Reviews the Past

College's memorabilia is displayed in the Dean's office.

North Greenville's annual Founders' Day was observed during a January chapel service. The speaker was Mr. Henry J. Howard, Dean Emeritus of the college and author of a history of North Greenville, From These Roots. He has also played a major role in the college's achieving accreditation with the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Guests at the service were the North Greenville Board of Trustees. Special music was presented by Mr. John McClellan, assistant in the Student Affairs Department, and by the College Choir.

Author and faculty member, Mr. Henry J. Howard, relates North Greenville's history.

Outstanding Students Are Honored

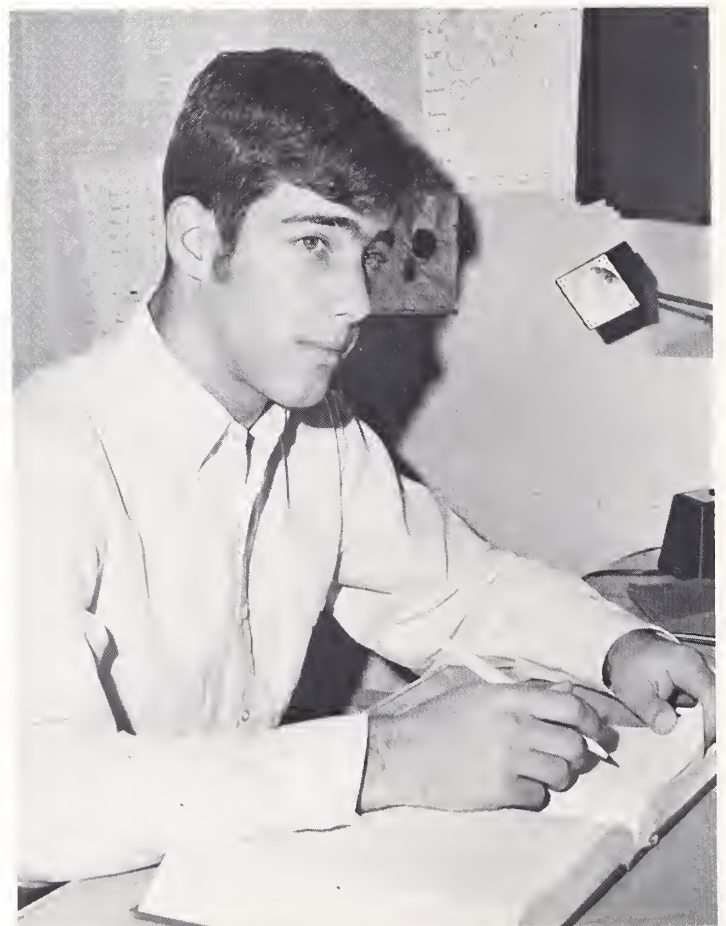

Becky Merrill
Skyliner Editor

Who's Who is a formal recognition of students who have shown excellence in scholarship, leadership, and service while attending North Greenville. Each of these students has contributed his time and ability for the improvement of the school and community.

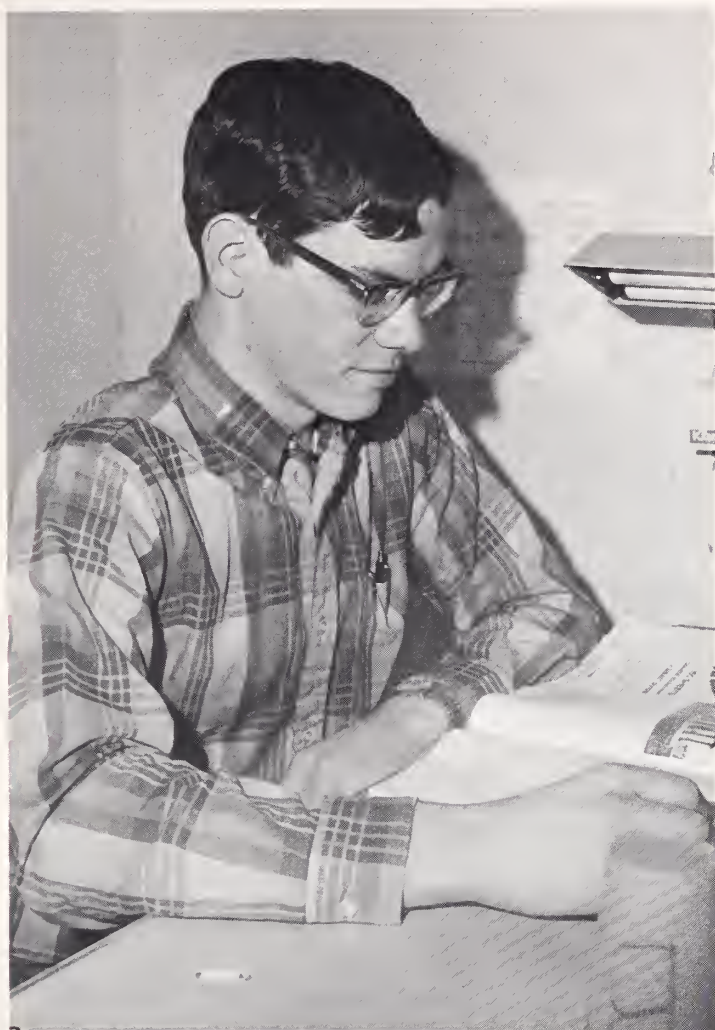

This year seven students have been selected to receive this honor. North Greenville is proud to honor these students by recognition in Who's Who in American Junior Colleges, a national organization recognizing junior college students of outstanding character and ability.

Christian Emphasis Week is a period set aside each year at North Greenville for concentration on spiritual matters.

This year the Reverend Peter McLeod, pastor of Central Baptist Church, Lexington, Kentucky, was the co-ordinator for the activities of the week. Team members for the week, representing several vocations, participated in chapel programs, seminars, buzz sessions in the dormitories, and individual class discussions. The week was a time of discussing, learning, sharing, and deepening of students' spiritual values.

Reverend Peter McLeod, Mr. Hale, and Jimmy Cox discuss various aspects of the week while Phil Rhodes patiently waits.

College Honors Mr. Blackwell

One of the best loved professors at North Greenville retired this past year. Mr. Robert J. Blackwell has served North Greenville faithfully in varied capacities for thirty-eight years and has taught here longer than any other living teacher. Mr. Blackwell taught math, served as assistant dean of boys, coached the boys' basketball team, and helped to build White Hall.

The retired professor was honored in chapel for his service to North Greenville. The college presented him a gold plaque and a color television.

Christmas Spirit Envelops Campus

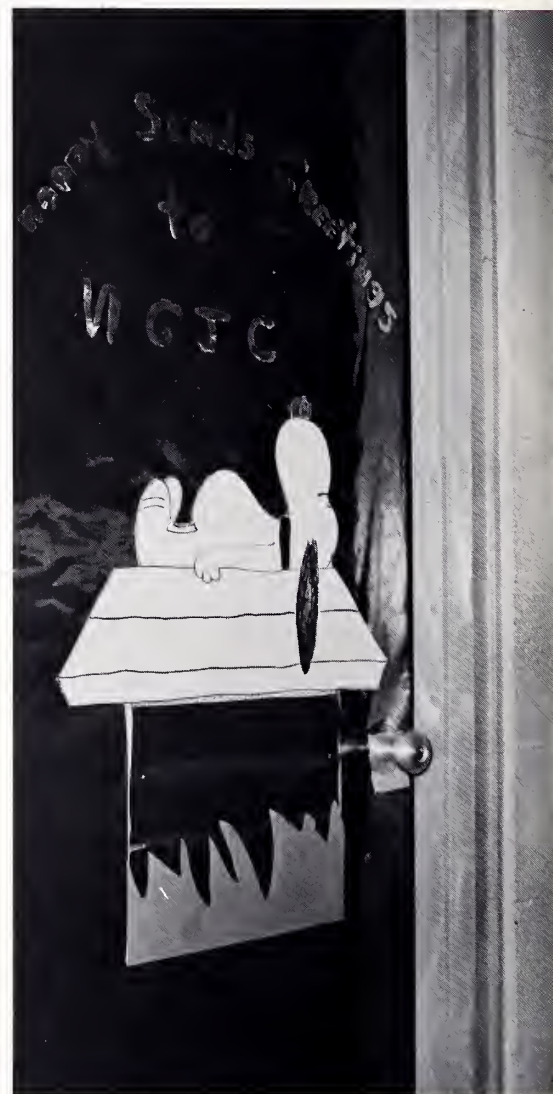

Patsy Buis, Hazel Wimberly, and Donna Jones add the final touches before the judging of their hall.

Early in December the campus begins to show signs of preparation for the holidays. Each club is given a certain area of the campus to decorate, and students busily tape tinsel, crepe paper, and colored lights into place.

For many, Christmas at North Greenville means that exams are finished, and a quiet, restful holiday is ahead. Or it may mean the graduation for some Sophomores and the departure of a few Freshmen. Finally, with a sigh of relief and a slight feeling of sorrow, students wish a merry Christmas to everyone and head toward home.

Judges Find Decisions Difficult

Linda Mooney congratulates Teresa Arbaugh, the new Miss Aurora.

Miss Teresa Arbaugh walked "Peachtree Avenue" to become Miss Aurora of 1969. The master of ceremonies for the Miss Aurora Pageant was Sonny Eppes, a Greenville radio personality, who presented the sixteen lovely contestants. Entertainment was provided by Don Rochester, accompanied by Chip Culbertson and Tony Testino.

The girls competed in three divisions — sportswear, talent, and evening gown. The contestants chose Judy Kennemer as Miss Congeniality.

Before crowning the new queen, Miss Linda Mooney performed the talent which helped her to be named Miss Aurora of 1968.

Tension mounts as the judges make their final decision.

Sherryl Johnson Is Chosen

The title Miss North Greenville is an honor the student body bestows upon one Sophomore girl each year. The award is based on several factors, such as personality, school spirit, scholastic achievement, and appearance. The winner this year was chosen because of her warm personality, her willingness to help when needed, and her dedication to North Greenville. These and other fine traits make the student body pleased to have Miss Sherryl Johnson represent them as Miss North Greenville of 1969.

One more class and I'm through for the day!

Students Select Mike Runyan

Mike finds time for relaxing in the library.

Mr. North Greenville of 1969 was chosen for his dependability and devotion to the ideals for which North Greenville stands. Patience, dedication, and loyalty are a few of his qualities. The student upholds North Greenville's spirit, works willingly, accepts responsibilities, and uses his talents for the improvement of the college.

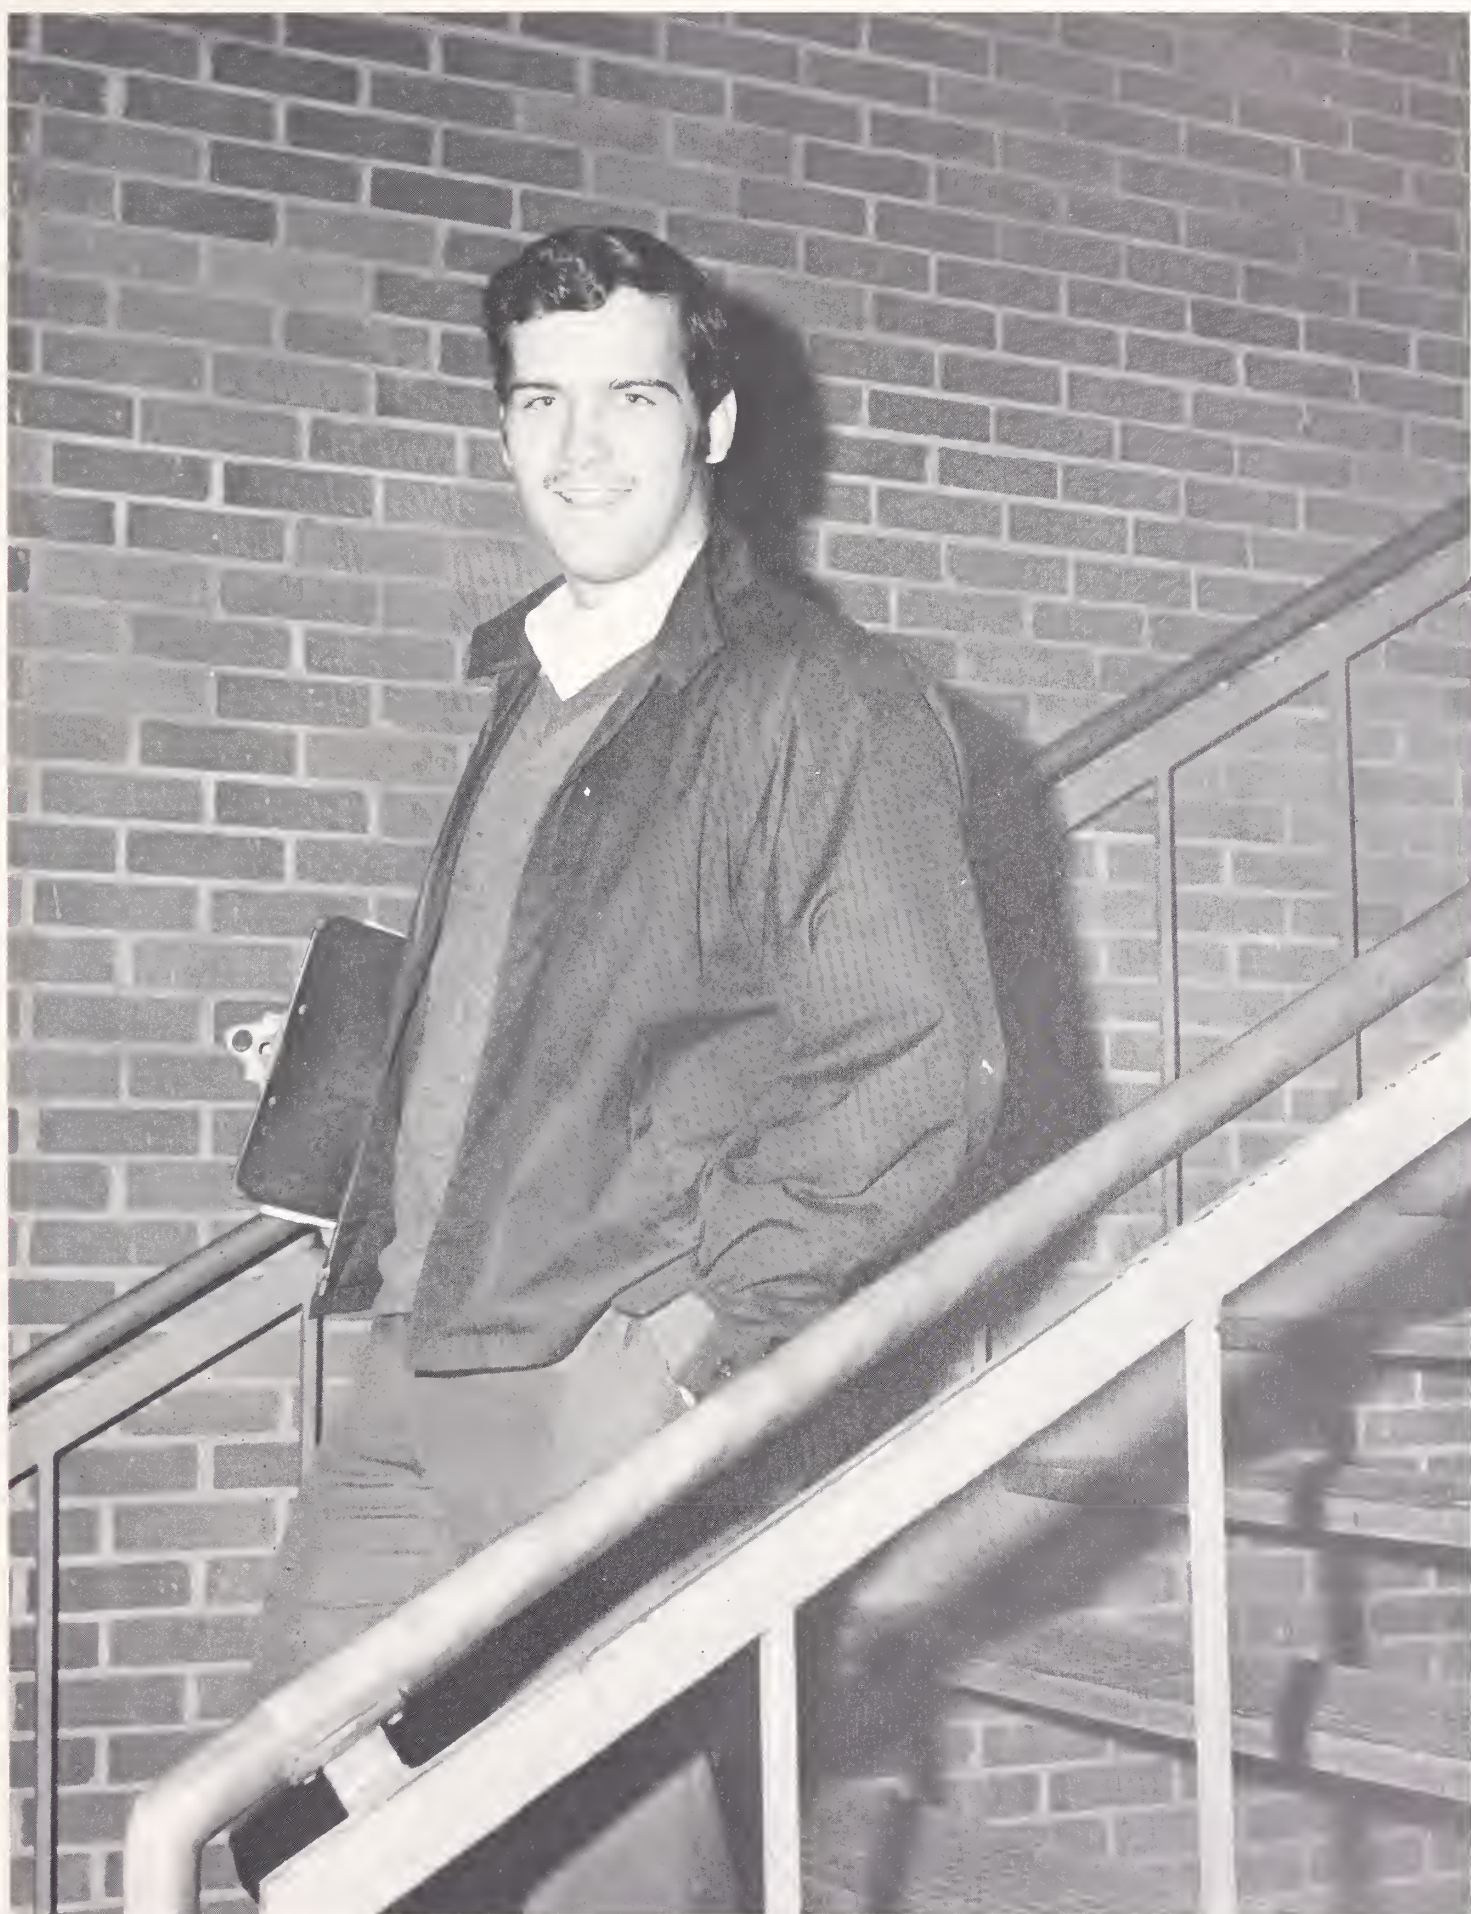

Working to the best of his ability is one of the most important aspects of this title. The North Greenville student body proudly presents Mr. Mike Runyan as Mr. North Greenville of 1969.

Activities Promote School Spirit

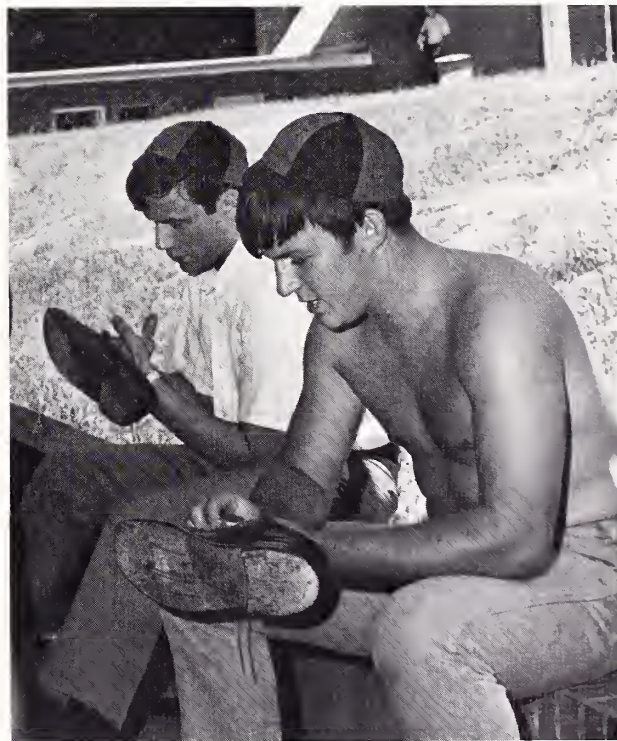

Freshman boys revert to their childhood long enough to play "train."

Rat Week was filled with excitement and the usual tensions of a Freshman's first few weeks at college. Many planned activities were organized to draw the "Rats" into the spirit of North Greenville, and many unplanned stunts caused the campus to explode with sudden bursts of laughter. With the call, "Hey, Rat!", every Freshman within 300 feet automatically grew tense and thought, "Oh, no, not again!" However, Rat Week accomplished its purpose — to acquaint students with one another and to improve Sophomore and Freshman relationships. When Rat Week was over, Freshmen emerged as an active part of North Greenville.

Basketball

The Mountie, adopted as North Greenville's athletic mascot, was designed in 1964 by Eugene Hawkins, a North Greenville alumnus. It was drawn first for the Alumni Office. Later Coach Tankersley secured permission to have the artist draw a large design for the college gymnasium. Since then, the Athletic Department has used the Mountie mascot.

Joe Styles drives for a lay-up as Bill Bullard looks on.

Ronnie Robinson goes up for a lay-up against Gardner-Webb.

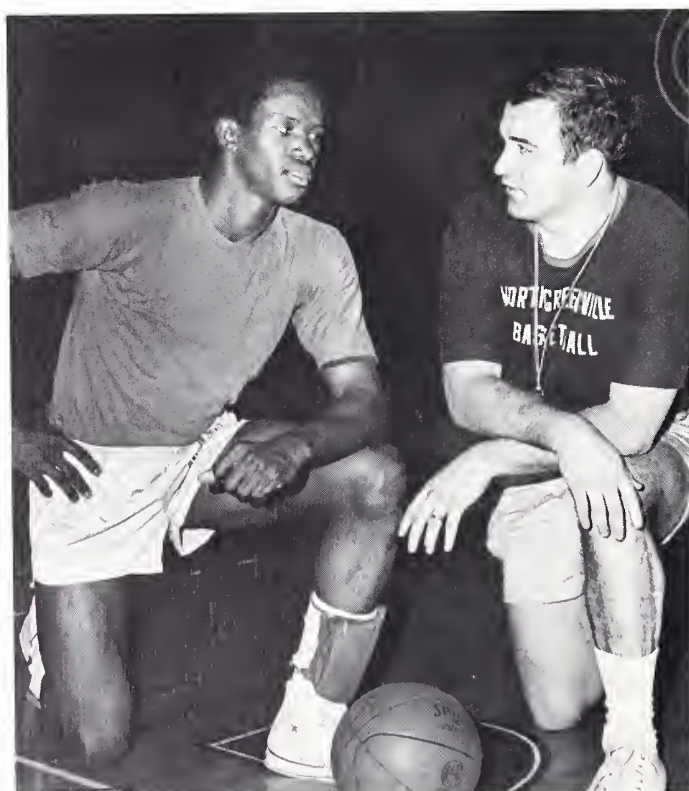

Jeff Hafer shoots as Ronnie Robinson blocks his defender.

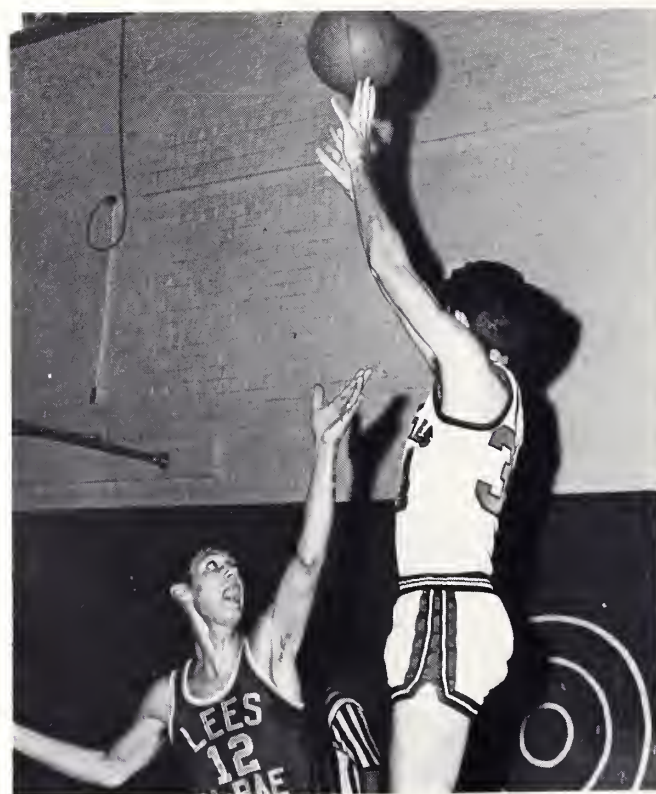

Mounties Face Triumphant Victory and

Students and Mounties work as a team for victory.

Zeke Bateman, captain, and Coach Tankersley plan game strategy.

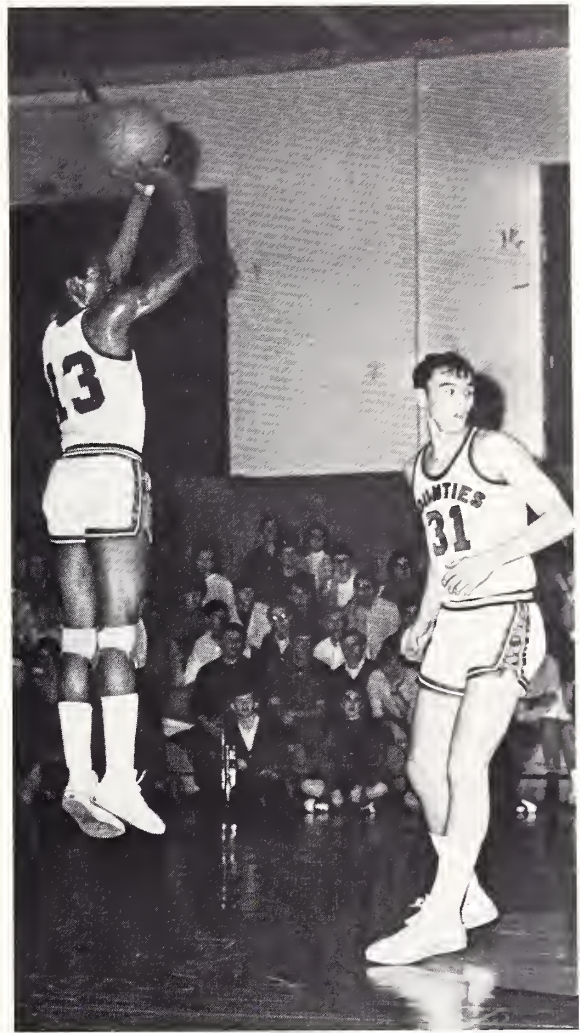

Ronald Vest shoots from the corner as a Lees-McRae player defends.

Agonizing Defeat

Jeff Hafer goes up for a jumpball while Zeke Bateman and Mike Tucker look on.

Bill Bullard moves toward the basket as Zeke Bateman hits a jump shot.

The Mountie cheering section?

Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders Boost Spirit

Throughout the season, our cheerleaders strive to support North Greenville's teams and urge them to victories. The time devoted to organize new yells is only a small part of their responsibility. Their main goal is to create and boost the morale of not only the team but also the spectators. Even though the other team may be victorious, our girls are always backing the red and black colors. The one word that could express the cheerleaders' feelings for the Mounties is enthusiasm.

At the bonfire cheerleaders set the pace for the Anderson game.

The cheerleaders spend many hours in practice learning new cheers.

Left: Cheerleaders get to act out cheers for student body.

Below: The Cheerleaders' tension builds as the game comes to a close.

Lassie End Season with Victories

Lassies—Kneeling: Janet Hopkins, Gaynell Willis, Nancy Hawkins, Linda Gillespie. Standing: Miss Hall, coach; Vickie Jones, Karen Brown, Kay Caldwell, Casondra Frady, Pat McCaskill, Marjorie Cox, manager.

In 1959, the North Greenville girls' basketball team decided to recognize themselves with a mascot, the Lassie.

Caynell Willis helps the Lassies gain two points.

There was a slight collision on that play.

Karen Brown scores as a Furman player defends.

Casondra Frady gets the tap on a jump ball.

Girls' Basketball

Coach Kella Hall calls time out to correct a mistake in the defense.

Casondra Frady shows form and balance as she makes two points on a lay-up.

Enthusiasm and Hustle

Bring Results

Kay Caldwell goes up for a jumpball as the game begins.

Girls' Basketball under the guidance of Coach Kella Hall, in her first year at North Greenville, proved to be quite exciting. With great enthusiasm and hustle the Lassies won their last three out of four games proving their ability and their potential as a team.

Casondra Frady and Pat McCaskill led the scoring with an average of 14 and 10 points respectively per game. The Lassies will lose only three players this year, and they have a good chance to improve their record next season.

Karen Brown tries to bring down another rebound.

Baseball

Team—Kneeling: Charles Henry, Gene Turner, Larry Dangerfield, Ken Woods, Bill Jarrell, Jeff Reddick, Ben Dorman. Standing: Ray Sanders, Phil Hamilton, John Erwin, Frank Hiott, David Campbell, Donnie Hodge, Coach Worley.

It seems Bill Jarrell didn't get the ball in time.

Victory Over G - W Ends Season

This could be one of those fabulous homeruns.

Ben Dorman receives the ball too late.

The Mounties ended the season with an upsetting 2-0 victory over Gardner-Webb. Their other victories included Spartanburg Junior College and Brevard, also arch rivals of the Mounties. David Campbell, catcher, was the leading hitter and Donnie Hodge, shortstop, was the most valuable player. Coach Worley led the Mounties through victory and defeat into the ranks of true sportsmen.

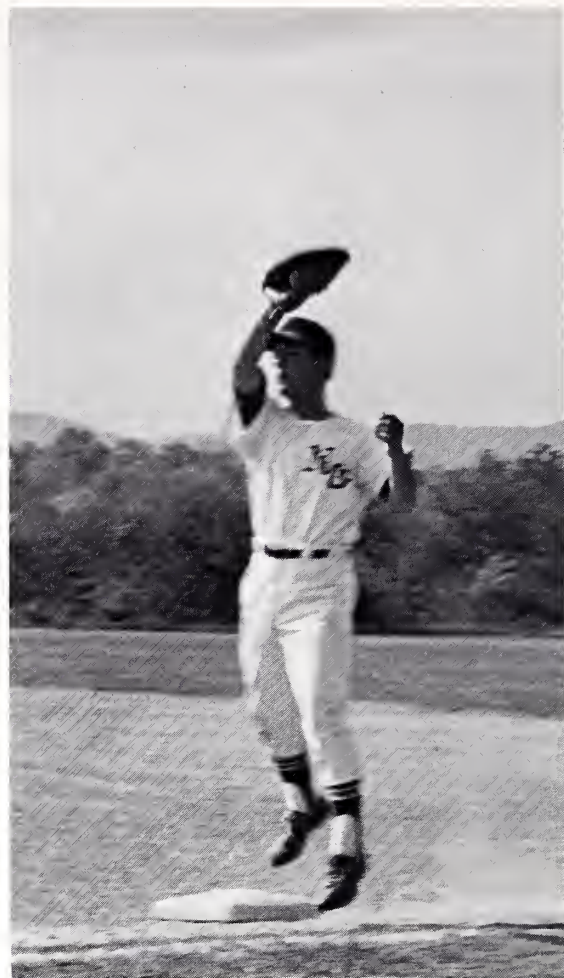

Coach Worley plays a big role in the future of his team.

Baseball

As the crowd looks on, the batter swings with victory in mind.

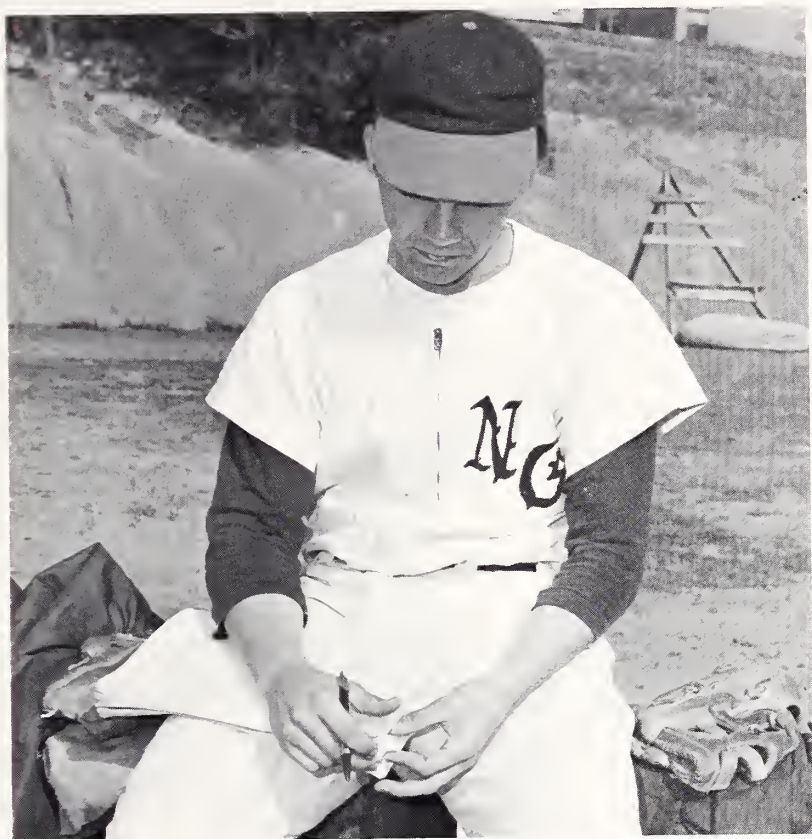

Here's an easy out by Phil Hamilton.

Finally a hit is made.

Team Works for Unity

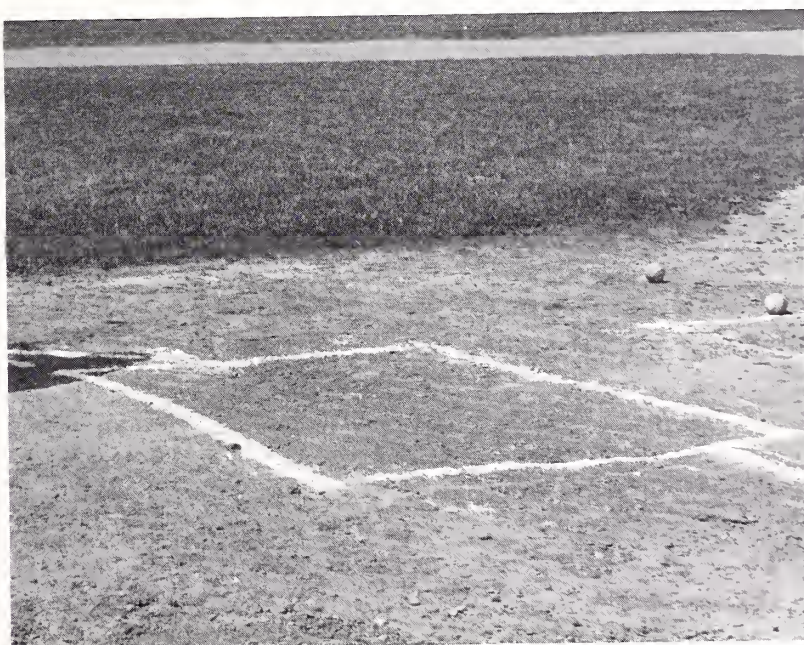

Now, it's not that bad, Jeff!

Charles Henry and Ray Sanders have a well deserved break.

Bill Jarrell seems to have ideas of his own about the game.

It's over for another season.

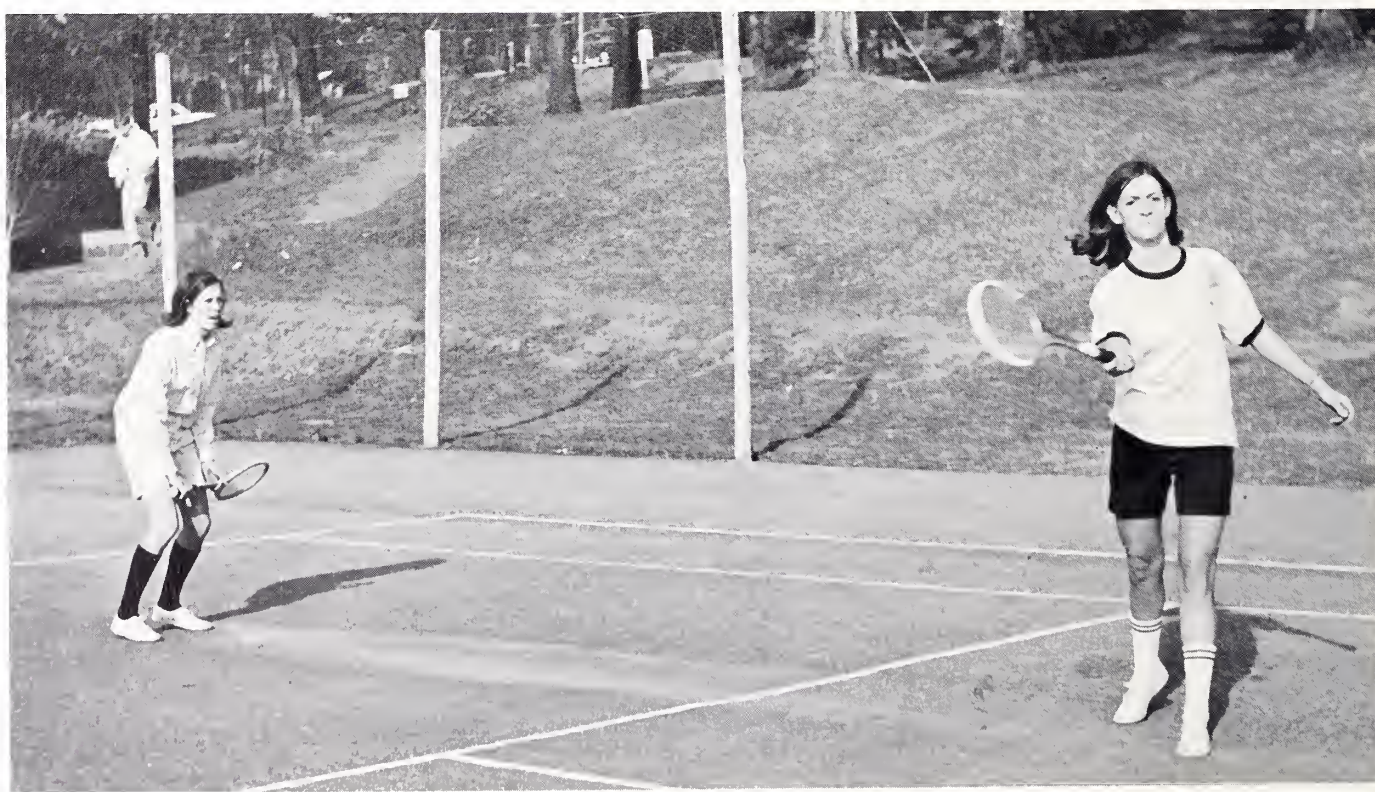

Tennis

Mrs. Proctor not only coaches but joins the game.

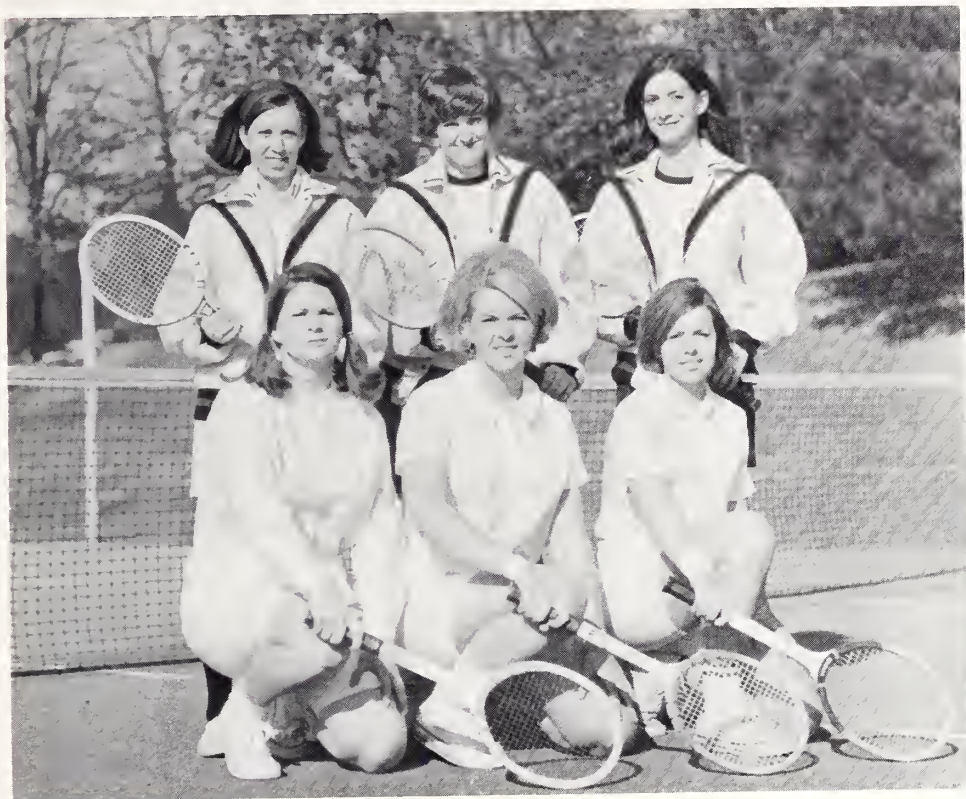

Mittie Asbury practices her forearm swing.

Carolyn Hightower watches as Miriam Hayes gets set to return the ball.

Girls Add New Sport

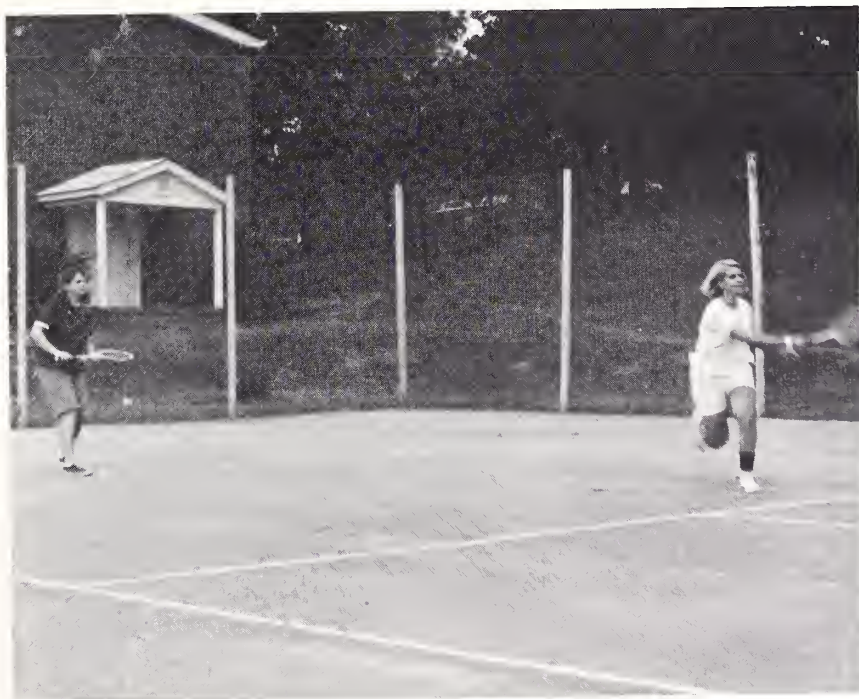

Team—Kneeling: Mittie Asbury, Pat McCaskill, Gaynell Willis. Standing: Carolyn Hightower, Janet Hopkins, Miriam Hayes.

A girls' tennis team was organized this year to provide more intercollegiate activities for girls at North Greenville.

The team will consist of two double teams and two single teams with the schedule starting in March. Mrs. Dan Proctor, coach, is expecting a good season even though the girls have had no previous varsity experience.

Carolyn Hightower returns the serve.

Mittie and Pat try their hand in the doubles.

Intramurals Lack Interest

Cary Freeman goes up to block a shot.

Dennis and Billy rush in on a tackle during the day students' and boarding students' game.

Is this really a basketball court?

At North Greenville this year boys' intramurals faced a decline in activities due to a lack of interest. Basketball teams were chosen in physical education classes, but no regular intramural teams were organized.

On Friday and Saturday afternoons as soon as classes were over, boys not going home organized football games to provide recreation. Later, two games were played between the boarding students on campus and the day students. The games provided much competition and action. Each student cheered his team on, and the boarding boys won both games for the championship.

Tommy Bannister gets ready to shoot as Ken Rogers defends.

Tim Jenkins stretches for two points and maybe victory.

Jerry Mullinax shows his shooting skill.

Where did that ball go?

Boys' Intramurals

Dufus and Ned Marlowe come in for a rebound.

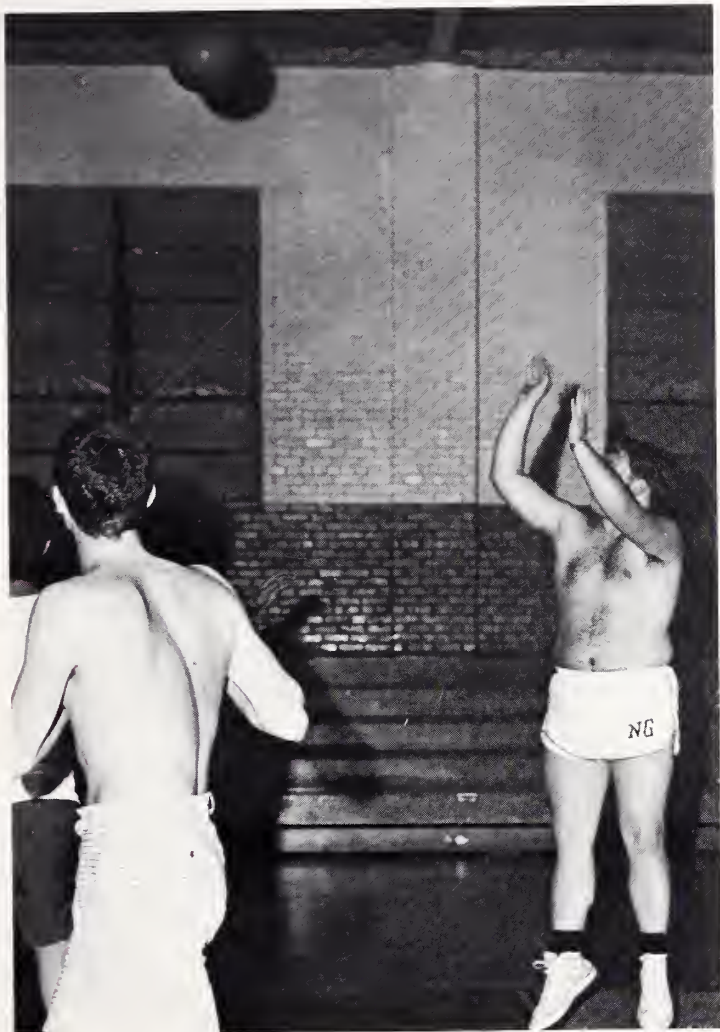

Above: Under the backboards it gets a little crowded. Right: Occasional fouls add a little more interest to the game.

Forrest Green tries to block Stanley Murrell's shot.

P. E. Provides Competition

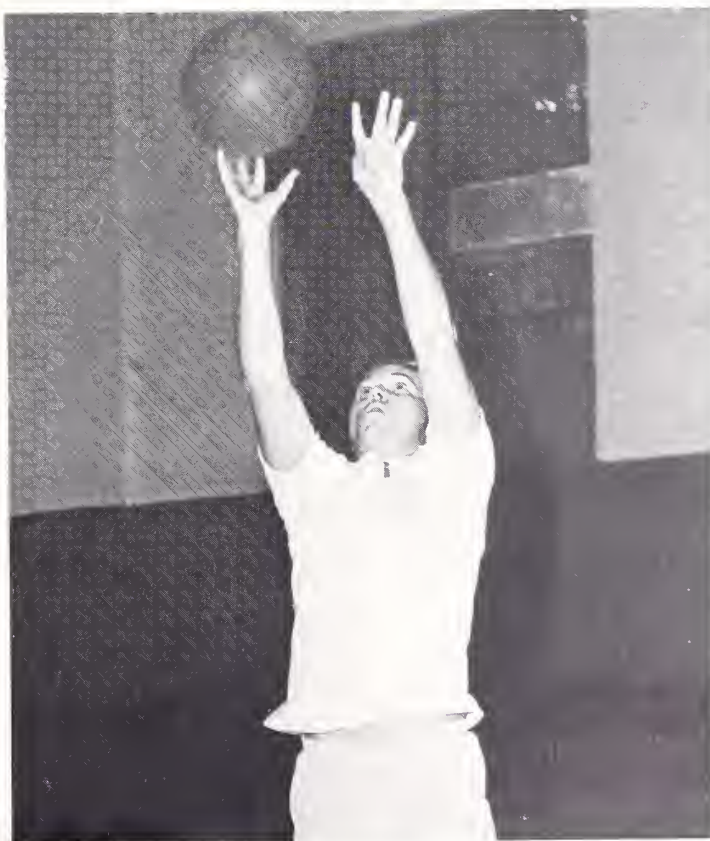

Mickey Dill shoots from the foul line.

Tim Jenkins attempts to block Tommy Michael's shot.

Leonardo Real shoots an easy one from under the basket.

Johnny Groce gets an open shot at the side.

Girls Have Varied Programs

Kay Caldwell slams one over the net.

Soccer can be a rugged sport.

North Greenville has a varied program of intramural sports for girls: volleyball, basketball, soccer, and bowling. Many of the intramural teams are coached by the basketball players themselves. Each team spends hours working out their defense and style of play. The leading scorers in the various sports receive trophies for their outstanding records.

The benefits gained from these games is not history in score books, but the experience gained is priceless.

"Oh, boy, did that hurt!"

Libby Smith watches as the ball goes over the net.

Bowling requires great concentration.

Carolyn Hightower hits the ball across the net as Pat McCaskill and Christy Quattlebaum observe.

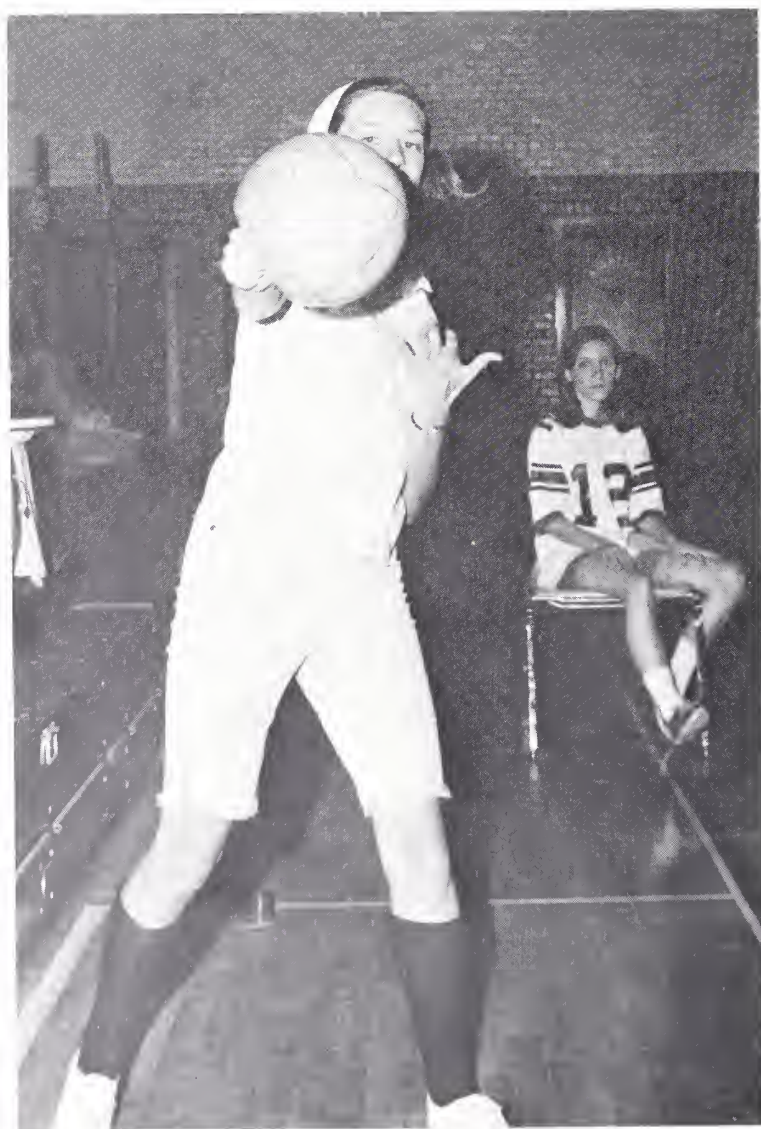

Diane Wooten displays dribbling tactics during a soccer game.

Girls' Intramurals

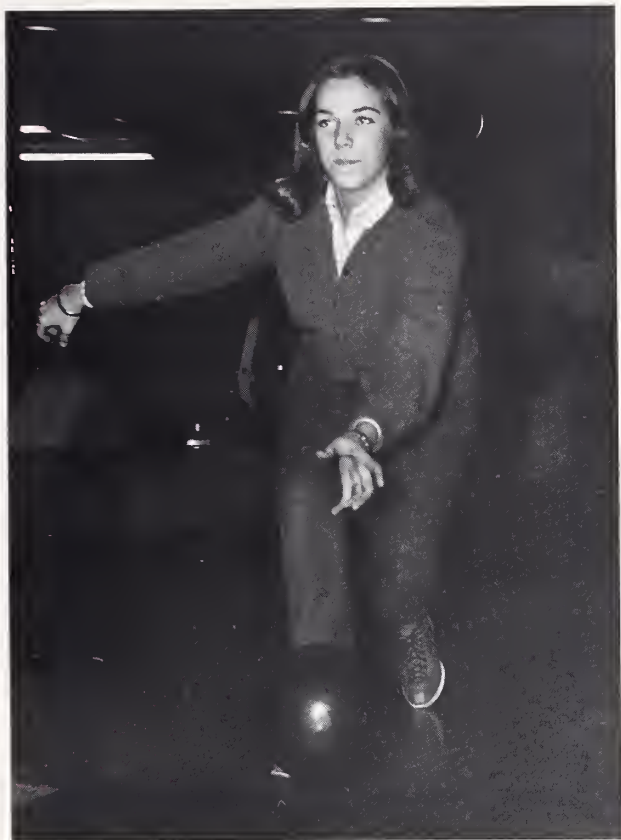

The Simpson Soccers rush in for the kick.

Left: Carolyn Hightower puts power behind her serve. Below: Nancy Hawkins relays the ball the hard way.

Teams Acquire Sportsmanship

Kitty Eppes tries very hard to beat her own record.

Field maneuvers are practiced by the Simpson Soccers.

Practice makes perfect.

Campus Life Is Hectic, Exciting

A vast amount of the learning at college is not acquired in the classroom. Making decisions, living with other people, and not being able always to do as one desires are sometimes difficult adjustments. However, through contacts with other students and faculty, a stumbling freshman becomes a confident adult. Campus Life endeavors to portray some of the learning experiences, the joys and sorrows of college.

Historic Poinsett Bridge is a favorite spot for North Greenville students.

One cannot forget the snow, cafeteria trays, wet clothes, no school, and fun!

Sherryl Johnson, Homecoming Queen of 1969, was escorted by Charles Henry.

North Greenville's seal is designed to represent the purpose for which the school was established. The Bible signifies the Word of God as the foundation of Christian faith and learning. The torch represents progress and enlightenment through education. The olive wreath stands for honor and excellence. The torch and the date, 1892, superimposed on the open Bible denote academic excellence in a Christian environment.

Alma Mater

At the foothills of the mountains
 'Neath the azure sky,
Stands our noble Alma Mater
 As the years go by.

Excelsior is our motto.
Greatness without fail.
Hail to thee, Our Alma Mater,
Hail, North Greenville, Hail!

For our ideals and traditions
 Praises still are rung,
Cherished as in yesterday
 When our school was young.

When in pleasure and in trials
 We depart from thee,
Worthy sons and worthy daughters
 May we prove to be.

Business Manager Expresses Thanks

To some, the advertising section of a yearbook is nothing more than extra pages in the back of the book to autograph, but this part of a yearbook involves more — it includes the cooperation and hard work of many people.

First of all, to the many businesses which have supported our yearbook this year, my sincere thanks. You have helped our efforts in the business world become a success, and your cooperation has made our advertising section possible.

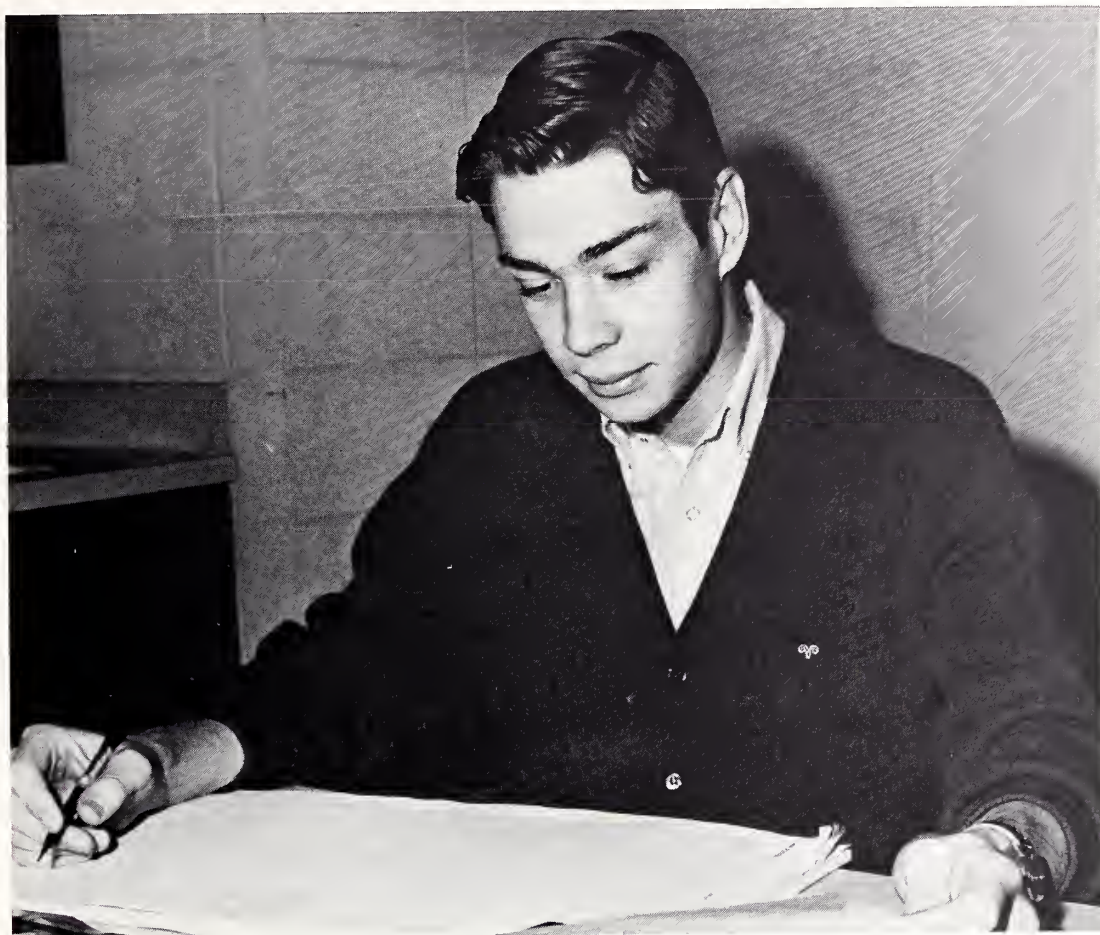

To the members of this year's business staff, I extend my deep appreciation for your time and efforts in visiting the firms and also for your help in planning the layouts and corresponding with our patrons. To the clerical staff, my appreciation to you in helping keep our financial records accurate.

Then to you, the student body of North Greenville, my thanks for your financial support and your cooperation in helping make our 1969 AU-RORA not only an advertising success but a yearbook that we can be proud of for many years to come.

Donna Boyter
Business Manager

Editor Says Last Words

Only through working on a publication can a person really know the hardships, the amount of work, and the worry that go into the publishing of a yearbook. Even though our 1969 staff had some difficulties in meeting deadlines and not getting pictures taken far enough in advance, we certainly had fun and excitement in finally achieving our goal — the 1969 Aurora.

I would like to express my thanks to all the section editors, the business staff, the typists, the photographers, and staff members for working faithfully and diligently. Also, our advisor, Mrs. Veda Sprouse, deserves a word of praise for seeing solutions to our many questions. The staff and I are grateful to the administration, staff, and faculty for helping us in so many ways.

A very special thank you goes to Rawlins-Allen Studio, Simpson Photo Service, and Mr. Gene Hawkins, who did such a good job on all our photographs. To our publisher, Keys Printing Company, and especially to Mr. Morris Kenig, we express many thanks for patience, indulgence, and the interpreting of our layouts and copy sheets.

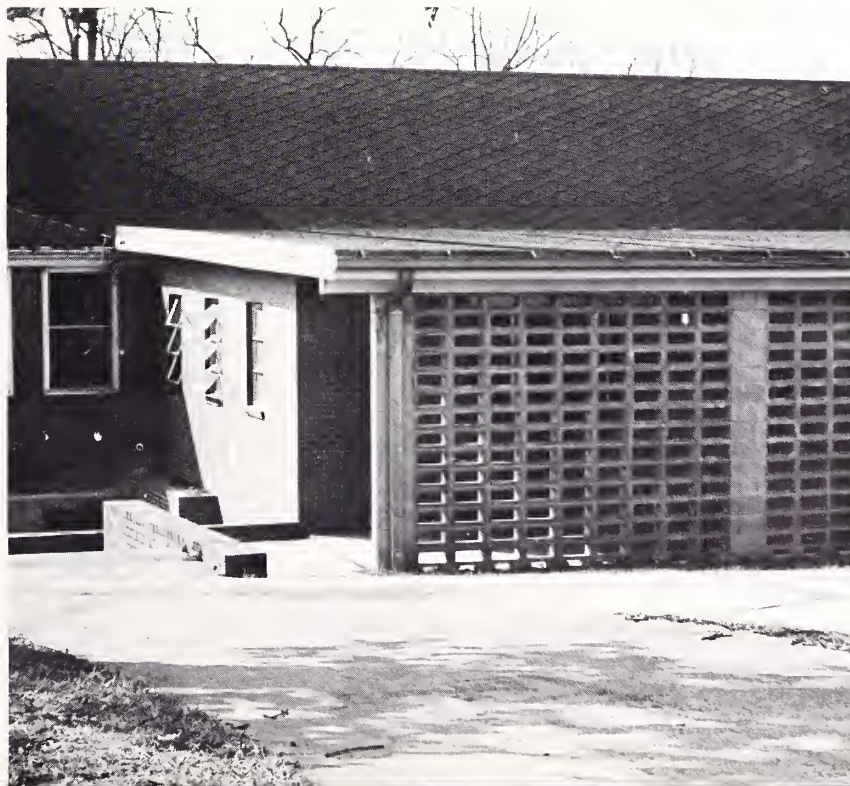

Last of all, I want to extend appreciation to all club presidents and organizations for working with us, and to all the students of North Greenville. I am grateful for the privilege of serving as editor of the 1969 Aurora. As the staff concludes its work, we hope that each of you find in this yearbook something distinct, real, symbolic, and true.
